Weekly Cotton Review.

New York, August 28.—Rather a more optimistic sentiment has developed in local cotton trade circles during the past few days with reference to the possibility of an early reopening of the exchanges. This seems to be based chiefly upon a feeling that the meeting of the presentatives of the Liverpool, New Orleans and New York exchanges here next week will result in a satisfactory arrangement of the old interests on the basis of old rather than new crop values, and that such a settlement will greatly improve the situation, so far as the exchanges are concerned. It is believed that the managers of the local exchanges are considering plans for reopening business in government contracts only, which some think might possibly be attempted before the old interest had been completely eliminated. Meanwhile business seems practically at a standstiff. The only spot sales reported are of small scattering lots at sharply declining prices in the South. Little interest is shown in weather or crop news and vo far only one private report has been disued in the effort to foreshadow the government bursau bulletin on Monday. This indicated an improvement of about 2 per cent from last month's figures.

The result is that the rate to New Orleans from any local point may it is made up of a local rate to a junction to destination. This combination is alleged to create a rate discrimination rates gives opening for further discrimination. The wording is indefinite, the complaint avers, and permits the carriers to absorb compressing charges or assess them against shippers at will. The complaint asks that the phrase "to include cost of compressing" be substituted.
